About the day

This event brought together Advanced Practitioners from across the region to share best practice, knowledge and their plans for the future. The day encouraged everyone to take the time to learn, network and create partnerships with colleagues across the region.

The aim of the day

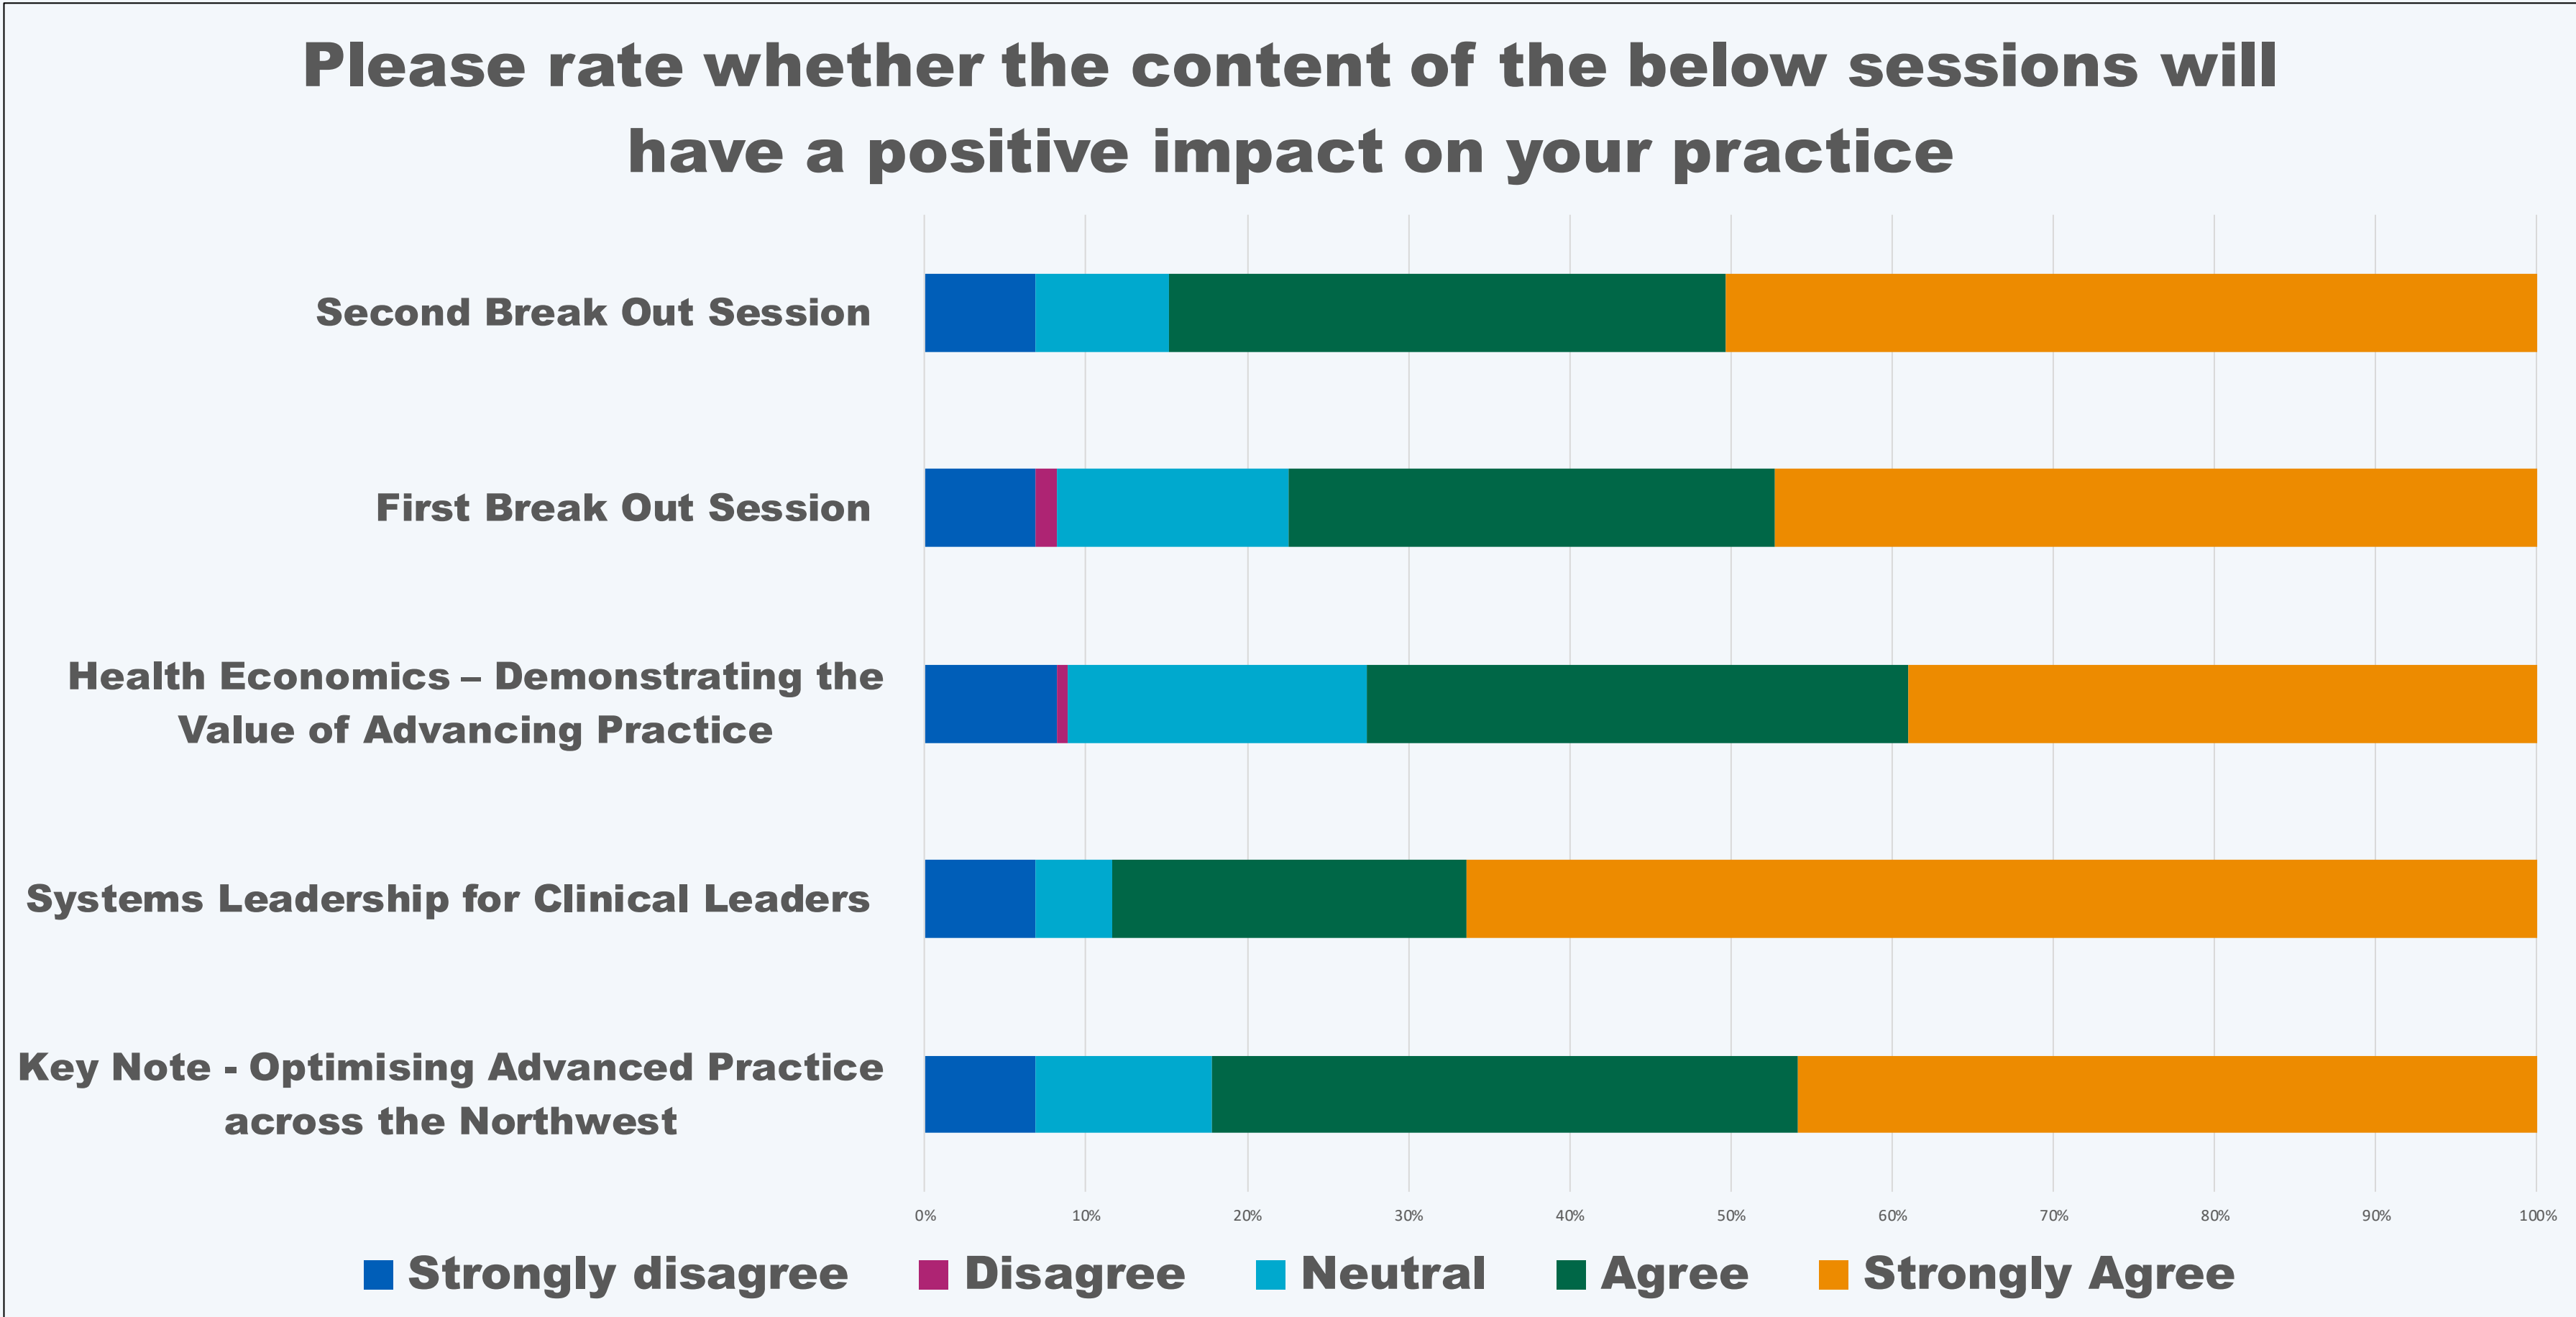

The day was to bring Advanced Practitioners together to share and disseminate best practice, support Advanced Practitioners to have a greater impact in their systems, increasing their ability to influence through systems leadership, understanding the changes in population health and supporting career progression.

The conference sessions and feedback:

The day included main hall and break out sessions that covered:

- Changes in Population Health across the North West
- Practical Steps to Research
- AP education in the workplace & developing the education pillar
- Career progression - Consultant Level Practice / framework
- Leadership – A journey of influencing

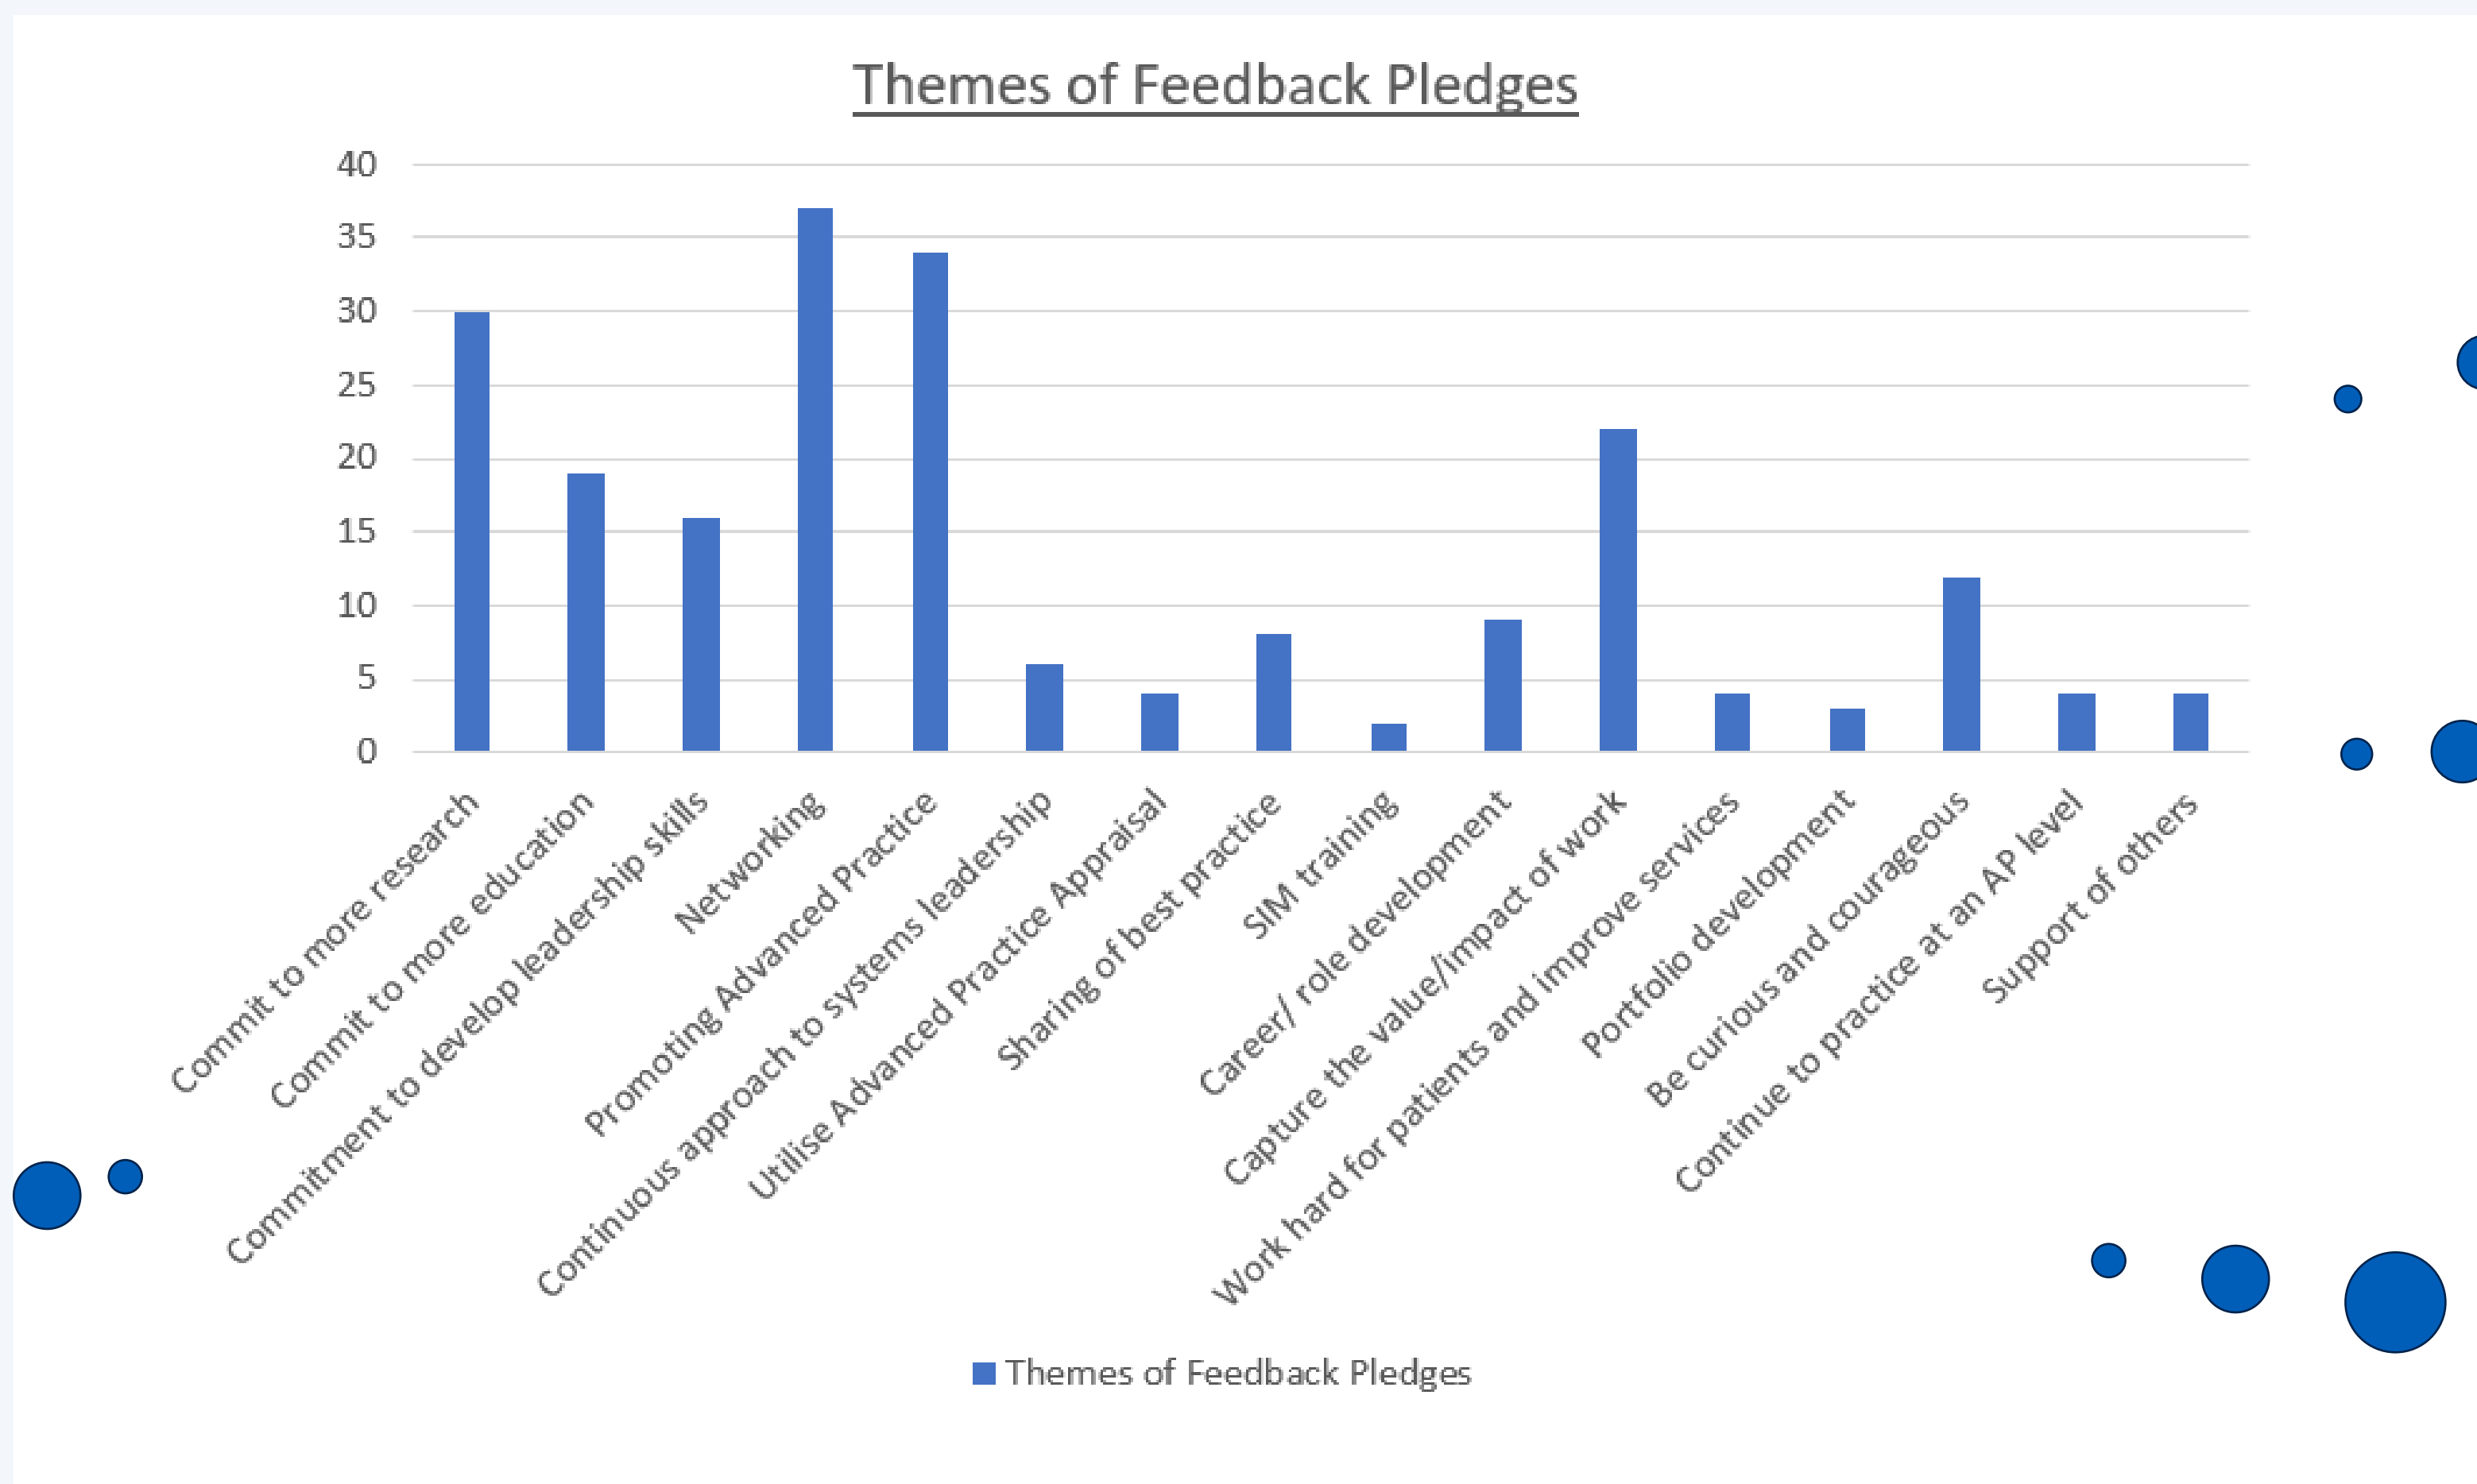

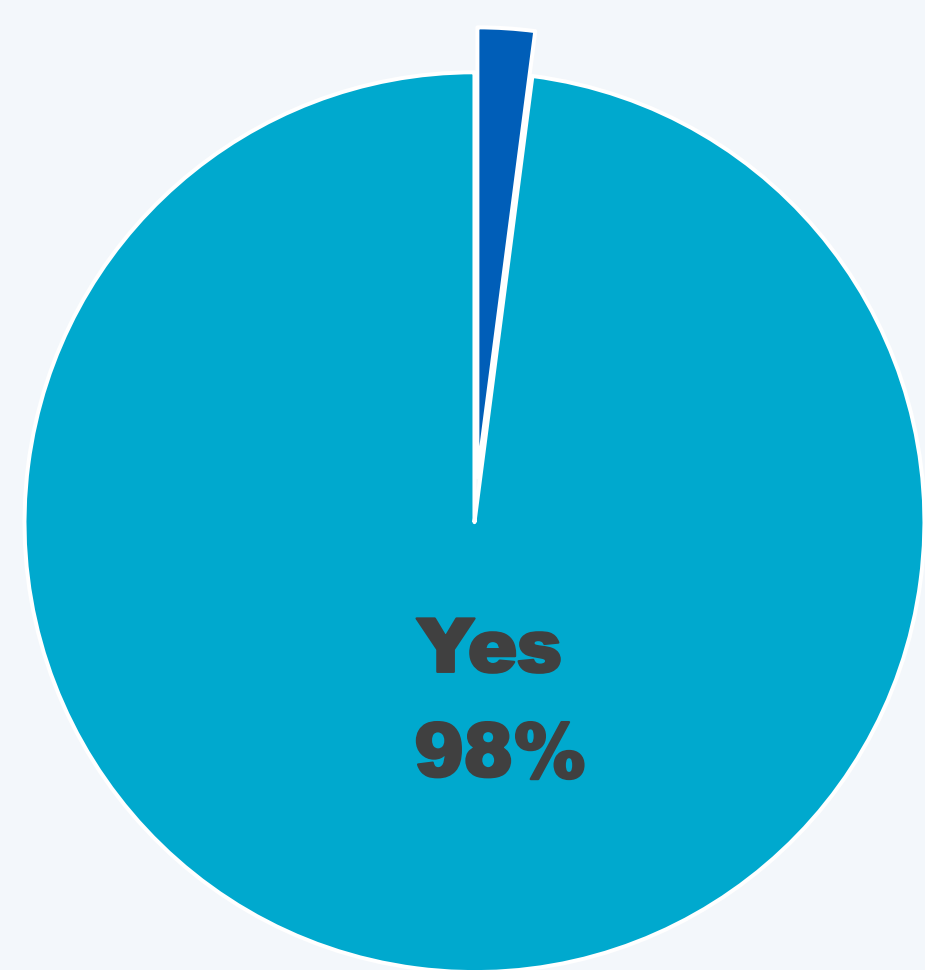

It was important to understand the impact of the day and would attendees be able to utilise the information within their practice.

Pledges from our attendees

As part of the conference, delegates were asked to provide two pledges on how they are going to contribute to working towards optimising advanced practice across the North West, creating impact in all four pillars. The themes of their pledges below shows that the discussions in the panel sessions helped to influence their pledges:

Did the panel session influence your pledges

Be curious, courageous and question practice

Build bridges to other areas of ACP work

I now understand my role and impact on system leadership within my area. I pledge to develop and impact service change

I will start to write up and share developments and innovations I am part of.
